

THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4.

The latest from Washington is that of President will sign the inter-state commerce bill.

Chas. Louisa Kellogg is housekeeping in New York. This is the best business Miss Kellogg has been in for many years.

The Minnesota legislature has passed a bill making a saloon license $1,000 in cities of more than 10,000, and in smaller places at $500. The bill permits municipal authorities to make the license as much in excess of the above as they may see fit, and does not affect the local option provision passed.

Even so strong a democratic paper as the Richmond (Va.) Whig, gives the following novel democratic view of civil service reform: "Civil service reform, in one sense, means that it is better to have an honest, prompt and efficient republican than an idle, careless, cringing democrat, and vice versa."

The New York World, democratic, pays the president this compliment: "The fact that Mr. Cleveland is to day much weaker in this state than he was when he lost 60,000 or more democratic votes in 1884. Neither the Irish voters, nor the large labor element, nor the party 'workers' and leaders are any better disposed towards him than they were. On the contrary, the number of the discontented has largely increased."

Assemblyman Nye, of this county, has introduced a resolution which provides that it shall be the duty of each city, incorporated village and town, in the county of Rock, to pay into the treasury of said county, for the benefit of the poor fund, for each license to sell intoxicating drinks granted by any such city, incorporated village or town, the sum of $50 and a proportional sum for a license for less than a year. It also provides that these cities, villages and towns shall pay into the county treasury one-half of the license money mentioned on or before the first Wednesday of March and the other half on the first Wednesday of October in each year, for the benefit of the poor fund.

ABOUT DEMOCRATIC COWARDICE.

The New York Star is a paper which supports the administration through thick and thin. Very lately it asked the New York Herald this question: Will the Herald kindly point out any 'measure of strong vitality and immediate importance' with the democratic party 'does not dare to grapple'?

The Herald was not slow in answering the Star, and showed a good deal of impudence in the business, as the following answers were given:

1. Revenue reduction by a reform of the tariff is a measure of strong vitality and immediate importance, with which the democratic party does not dare to grapple, although in its Chicago resolutions of 1884 it secretly pledged itself to do so.
2. Financial security by stopping the compulsory college of the false silver dollar is another such measure.
3. The national defense against foreign aggression is still another.
4. The repeal of the barbarous navigation laws, both on general grounds and particularly that we may take full commercial advantages in event of a great European war, is a fourth.
5. The reform of the public land system, to preserve against speculation and fraud the remnant of the national domain which is still subject to national disposal, and to prohibit the immense individual and corporate holdings which are multiplying in the west, is a fifth.

Then the Herald continues to remark: "We can prolong the catalogue, but there are enough to-day. If the Star asks for another dozen, we will respond after it has taken this one." The Herald then rattles away on the subject of democratic cowardice as follows: "While Witterton is shrieking from Louisville that democratic salvation depends on filling every clerkship and tidewater place with partisan officeholders, and the Star in New York hopes that salvation can be found in trimming with Mr. Randall, the Herald's simple and straight forward conclusion is that salvation consists in showing the country that the party is not a mob—that it believes in something righteous and patriotic as a party, and that the purpose of its existence is not to trim, but bravely to impress that something on the public policy of the country. At present there is no measure of any kind in which anybody can truly affirm that it does not believe—no measure on which it does not assert opposite opinions and conflicting action among its members."

SOME DODDLE CONGRESSMEN.

The first big job of the present congress was worked through the house to-day. It was the passage of the bill paying the McMinville & Manchester road in Tennessee about a quarter of a million dollars on the plea that the rebels took up the rails. The fact is the rebels took up the rails from the branch to repair the main line, and the line was subsequently rebuilt in great part by the United States.

The foregoing paragraph was sent from Washington to the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette by General Boynton. It gives, in brief, an account of one of the most dishonest transactions congress has engaged in this session; and yet 46 republicans voted for the job bill, and two of them are from Wisconsin—Isaac Stephenson, of the Ninth district, and I. W. Van Schaick, of the Milwaukee district. These members not only misrepresented their constituents, but they outraged the moral sentiment of the state of Wisconsin.

The members of congress who voted for this steal, or job, or by whatever other name it may be called, simply assume that the Union troops stripped the McMinville & Manchester railway of its iron, whereas they did no such thing. The Union generals who went over the road as early as the summer of 1862, found the road wrecked, and the wrecking was done by the rebels to prevent its use by the Union forces. The latter rebuilt the road as early as possible for the purpose of transporting government supplies over it, and when they were forced to abandon it they transferred the rails to another road, which the Union forces had a right to do, because the iron belonged to the government.

Just before the vote was taken on the job bill, the members were warned that there were one hundred million dollars of such claims all along the lines of the southern railways, and to pass this bill would let down the bars that these claims might get through congress. Every republican who voted for that bill should be spotted. He is unfit to represent any portion of Wisconsin in the house of representatives. It is a job measure and nothing less can be made out of it.

EVERYBODY STRIKING.

Non-Union Men Quit Work—The Police Strike, at a Mob—The Business Men.

New York, Feb. 4.—The labor incident of Thursday was the strike of the 750 non-union men who have been handling coal at Port Richmond. Strikers later they will join the knights. Their action still further reduces the coal supply, as Port Richmond has been the main point of coal entry for New York and Brooklyn since the strike broke out. It is rumored that the strike has been called off, and that the men have returned to work. The men who were brought from Cincinnati to work on the piers have refused to go to work when they learned that they were expected to take the places of the strikers.

About 300 strikers attempted to force an entrance to Pier 9 of the Erie road, Jersey City, where 150 non-union Italians were working late Thursday afternoon. They were intercepted by a squad of police and a hard fight ensued. The strikers threw bricks and stones and the police used their clubs freely. In a few moments the mob broke and ran. No arrests were made. The 750 employees at Higgin's Coal factory, have quit work because 'scab' coal is used by the firm.

The state legislative committee to investigate the causes of the coal strike met here Thursday after leaving sessions for witnesses adjourned for the day. At a meeting of the chamber of commerce the strike was considered and for the purpose of further discussing the situation and finding some means to improve matters, a meeting of business men was called to be held at Steinway hall Saturday evening.

GOING TO ASK MORE WAGES.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 4.—The purpose of the special meeting in this city of the executive board of the miners' National assembly No. 135, Knights of Labor, is much more important than previously supposed. It was learned Thursday that the object is the consideration of measures to secure an advance in wages ranging from 10 to 15 per cent. for the 10,000 K. of L. miners in the Monongahela valley, Meyersdale, Clearfield, and other districts.

Impossible to Compete with the West. FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 4.—The Fall River iron works, which have been in operation for fifty years, have shut down permanently and all hands have been discharged. It was found impossible to compete with western works that are near the base of the natural gas and iron supplies.

THE COLLERS READY TO HELP.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—A delegate from the National Trade District Assembly of Minors and Miss Laborers reported to District Assembly No. 2 Thursday that all miners in the anthracite fields were ready to strike if such action would help the men any.

A LATER JOHN ALDEN.

Who Spoke for Himself, But It Was Cosh.

JACKSON, Mich., Feb. 4.—A few months ago John Autelle wanted a wife, but was himself too bashful to do his own courting. He confided his trouble to Randolph June, a neighbor, and the latter offered to conduct the preliminary negotiations for $200. He did so, and was successful. The about a month ago Autelle was married to a woman he never saw until introduced to her by June. Hardly was the honeymoon over when she was found to be a prostitute. Autelle diffided the claim and June brought suit. The case came up for trial Thursday, but Autelle fled in the meantime come to a realization of the blessing June had secured for him, and paid the claim in full, with costs.

Oh, What an Awful Breath!

There is nothing more healthful than onions. The trouble is that persons are so afraid of them that they make the breath unfragrant. But there is a less fragrant breath than the one freighted with onions. We mean the breath of a person with a foul stomach. Take him away! We inwardly cry when he whistles in our faces. Take a few BRANDY'S PILLS and regulate your liver, stomach and bowels and your breath will be sweet.

Japanese Craze for European Dress.

One shiny crumb of comfort in this crazy taste for European dress can not go very far. In a country where there are no chairs and people squat on the floor; where no table is more than six inches high; where boots must be removed outside the door; where they should sell the mats, which are talismans, suits, cushions, carpets, beds and bedding, all in one; where grooms spend along on foot and keep up with their masters on horseback; where the laborer toils half the year in the rice fields to his middle in mud and water; where the artisans and handicraftsmen work at their vocations in a state of semi-nudity, and where the first impulse of every one, male and female, about to exert themselves, is to cast away the upper half of their garments, such a craze for European dress, the unpicturesque, inconvenient, unhygienic dress of the west can never be naturalized, unless the whole fabric of social life and manners, and even of nature herself, be changed.—Cor. London Times.

BUTCHERED FOR LUCRE.

HORRIBLE MURDER OF AN OLD MAN AND HIS YOUNG WIFE.

A Judge Hissed for Acquitting an Alleged Criminal—Remarkable Coolness of an Eight-Year-Old Boy in Saving His Mother's Life—A Bad Outlook for Kegan—Assorted Criminals.

BREAU, I. I., Feb. 4.—Philip Schold, a farmer near here, aged 73, and his third wife, aged 24, were found dead in their house Thursday morning, having been brutally murdered. The man had been repeatedly stabbed with a large butcher-knife, which was found near him. His nose had been cut off, his eyes gouged out, the lips severed, the left side of the head hacked open, exposing the brain, the throat cut, and the body perforated in a score of places. The room where the body was found was deluged with blood. The body of Mrs. Schold was found at the bottom of the cellar stairs. The throat had been cut, and there were many stab wounds.

The furniture in the house had been turned upside down, bureaus broken open, and beds ripped up in a search for plunder. It is supposed that the murderer secured $500 which Schold weiler had saved up. The murders probably occurred Saturday night. The neighbors had not seen any about the house since that time, but supposed the couple had gone away on a visit, which they had spoken of. No attempt was made to enter the house, therefore, and the murderer has gained several days start of the police. The discovery of the tragedy was finally made by a relative, who chanced to call one of the coal-burners who have come outside the trouble began has returned to work. The men who were brought from Cincinnati to work on the piers have refused to go to work when they learned that they were expected to take the places of the strikers.

HISSED THE DECISION.

An Alleged Murderer Acquitted by a Baltimore Judge.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 4.—The trial of Anderson Perry, charged with being an accomplice in the murder of Emily Brown, and the sale of her body to a medical college, was finished Thursday evening. Perry had elected to be tried without a jury, and to this fact he perhaps owed his life. The only evidence against him was that given by John Thomas Ross, the negro who killed Emily Brown. Ross swore that Perry instigated the crime, and that while he was under the influence of liquor Perry urged him to kill Emily. Ross also implicated Albert Hawkins, who, he testified, stabbed the murdered woman while he (Ross) snatched her hand with a turk. In arriving at a decision Judge Duffy threw out the evidence given by Ross, declaring that Ross was unworthy of belief. Judge Duffy then acquitted Perry of the murder.

AN EIGHT-YEAR-OLD HERO.

He Saved His Murderous Mother's Life by a Stratagem.

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Feb. 4.—The house of William Morrison, of this city, was the scene of a fearful drama Wednesday night. The family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison and six children, ranging in age from 3 months to 12 years. During the absence of the father, the mother prepared a bowl of paragon water, which she attempted to force the children to drink. She succeeded only with one, a little girl 9 years old. The mother then threatened to cut her own throat, but was deterred by an 8-year-old son, who suggested hanging as an easier mode of dying. A rope was obtained, the little girl went aloft to an unfinished portion of the house, and tied the rope to a joint. The mother then forced a barrel, got upon it, placed her head through the noose, kicked over the barrel and swung off. With protest and saved his dying mother. At last accounts the little girl is hanging to life by a thread, and the mother is too prostrated to realize her nearness to eternity or the fearful crime she so nearly committed.

The Testimony Against Schwartz.

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 4.—The hearing in the case of Henry Schwartz, the alleged accessory in the murder of Kallag Nicholas, the Rock Island express messenger, was continued here Thursday, the court room being packed in anticipation of a startling disclosure, which, however, failed to develop. It is said that the prosecution has presented only such evidence as it deems sufficient to hold Schwartz to the grand jury, and that much of a surprising character has been withheld from the public, whom they are not yet ready to confront. Detective Pinckney says enough is known of Schwartz to hold him for a dozen years. The prosecution presented some twenty witnesses, their testimony showing that Schwartz and his family were in straitened circumstances previous to the robbery, and shortly afterward they lived in comparative luxury; that Schwartz had spent a number of $50 bills and that the stolen money was in bills of that denomination mostly; that while he could account for about only $500, he had spent over $5,000, and that he was living actively beyond the means his employment afforded him. After hearing the testimony Judge Woodbury bound the prisoner over to the March term of the grand jury.

Advanced the Price of Glass.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 4.—The Western Window Glass Manufacturers' association held an important meeting in this city Thursday, at which a resolution advancing prices from 5 to 7 1/2 per cent. was adopted. A committee representing eastern manufacturers was present, and decisive steps were taken looking to a permanent consolidation of business interests. The eastern and western associations retain their separate organizations, but in making price lists, wage scales, and administration of affairs will work in harmony. The advance in price takes effect as soon as lists can be prepared.

An Incestuous Michigan Man.

MARSHALL, Mich., Feb. 4.—George Becker, a prosperous farmer, living five miles east of Marshall, was arrested Thursday afternoon, charged with incest with his 15-year-old daughter. He is now in jail. The girl is quite lame, but quite bright and intelligent. She alleges that Becker has had criminal relations with her during the past two years.

Murdered His Landlady.

New York, Feb. 4.—Henry Shipman, aged 35, an insurance clerk, shot and killed his landlady, Mrs. Josephine Mason, at his boarding-house, 330 West Thirty-first street, Thursday afternoon. Shipman entered the house about 4 o'clock and was told that Mrs. Mason wished to see him. He entered her room and a few minutes later four shots were heard. Mrs. Mason rushed out of the room and expired. Shipman was arrested. He says he was drunk and shot the woman because she refused to marry him.

Krag the Chicago Wife-Remover.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—The inquest on the body of Lucy Haidelmayr, the young girl who was killed by her step-father, Lawrence Krag, is being held at the police court here, as well as two of his former wives, in order to obtain money from their insurance, was concluded Thursday. The jury returned a verdict to the effect that Lucy Haidelmayr came to her death from accidental poisoning, and that the poison was administered by Lawrence Krag with intent to commit murder. Krag will be held to await the action of the grand jury.

ASKING AN INVESTIGATION.

Action of the Republicans of the Indiana Legislature on Turpie's Election.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 4.—Contrary to expectation the meeting of the joint convention at noon Thursday, and to which time Speaker Sayre adjourned the house, was not preceded by any attempt to assent Democrats in the house. When the convention assembled only ten of the eighteen Republicans appeared, and it followed that session would be wanting in constitutionality. The senate and house calls were called, and the Democrats of the house refused to answer to their names, but their presence was noted by the speaker, and they were recorded as present, but not answering. Without declaring a quorum present the speaker recognized Judge Gardner, who offered a preamble setting forth all the steps in Wednesday's convention and closing with a resolution, appointing a committee to present to the senate of the United States "two facts showing such illegal votes," and to ask that an investigation into the matter be promptly held.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by the Republican vote, the Democrats remaining silent, and the convention was then adjourned until the following day. Thursday afternoon a resolution was adopted which directed directly upon the same matter. It declares the fact that bribery has been charged in connection with the senatorial election, and authorizes the speaker to appoint a committee of five to investigate the charge and make report to the house. The resolution is understood to refer to a charge that Robinson offered to vote for Harrison for $2,000, and that he finally voted for Turpie upon a promise of a government position. The committee appointed under the joint convention resolution will draw up a memorial to be presented to the senate of the United States, setting forth the reasons why Turpie should not be seated, thus having reference to alleged illegal votes cast by three Democratic senators. The committee will also make use of any matter which may be developed by the investigation of the bribery committee.

AN OSCULATORY PEDAGOGUE.

He Kissed His Girl Pupils Twice Daily and They Didn't Complain.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 4.—J. Quinn Rounds, an ex-newspaper man of Lyons, Mich., was arrested recently at a school house near Crystal, in which he was teaching, for assault and battery for repeatedly putting his arm around a young lady's waist and then kissing her. This opened the eyes of the trustees, and they made an investigation. It was found that Rounds had been in the habit of kissing each of his girl pupils at least twice daily, and though the girls had made no complaint, still it was possible to prefer twenty-seven distinct charges against Rounds, and this the trustees have done. He does not deny the charges, but pleads that he was "only in fun." The girls' friends generally are horrified at the failure of their daughters to report Rounds' wholesale kissing before it was discovered in court.

A Woman Banned to Death.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 4.—A fire in the state industrial school, formerly the house of refuge, which started early Thursday morning, soon enveloped the west end of the building. The ninety-six girls and women in that section of the building were rescued unharmed. The burning of the steam radiators caused many loud explosions, and the falling walls made it especially dangerous for the firemen. The fire, through the exertions of the firemen, was confined to the part of the building which is occupied by the girls. The entire loss is estimated at $100,000, no insurance. The remains of Mrs. P. J. Van Hosen were discovered among the ruins. She was 55 years old and employed in the laundry department.

The Michigan Soldiers' Home.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 4.—The committee investigating the charges of brutality in the management of the State Soldiers' home have agreed to their report and find no substantial charges. Senator Gorman introduced a bill in the legislature Thursday to hold the officers of the Michigan Soldiers' home responsible for the management of the Michigan Soldiers' home.

Men Saving for an Emergency.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—It is reported that as the result of a conference between Prince Bismarck and the secretary of the treasury, which took place Thursday, a German loan will be immediately negotiated. It was transpired that the government has nearly 100,000,000 marks remaining unexpended from the sums voted from time to time for home expenses. This sum is available, and will probably be used for military purposes.

Heavy Loss of Tobacco by Fire.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 4.—Fire broke out at 5:30 Thursday evening in one of the tobacco warehouses of the Drummond Tobacco company, situated at the corner of Third and Spruce streets. The fire was confined to the building in which it originated. The warehouse and contents are a total loss to the amount of $200,000, fully insured. The company will not be inconvenienced in the slightest by the result of this fire.

—Several young men from Deloit and Clinton took in the mask ball last evening.

—Mrs. Hormen Wisch left for Milwaukee, this morning to visit friends for a week or two.

—The "Traveling Men's Association" will meet at the Myers house parlors Saturday evening, February 5.

—Good Templars to-night at Lippin's hall. An evening of genuine pleasure for those who attend. 25 cents.

—To-day the W. O. T. U. rooms under the Merchants and Mechanics bank are open for contributions.

—The case of Welch vs. Barnes, was resumed in Justice Wickham's court to-day. T. S. Nolan, Esq., appears for the plaintiff and J. B. Doe, Esq., for the defendant.

—The Knights of Labor will entertain their friends with an all night dance at Apollo hall this evening. Tickets will be fifty cents and the Arion orchestra will furnish the music.

—Farmers and others who are compelled to travel the country roads, complain of their lamentable condition. Chuck holes and drifts make them, in certain seasons, well nigh impassable.

—It has been suggested several times by those interested that the hotel business be discontinued, and guests pay their fares to one line the same as in Beloit.

—Colonel Street, of the Select Knights has received word from Madison that his appointments are approved. The members of his staff from this city are R. A. Burns, B. F. Moore and J. M. Thayer.

—Last evening the printers made us say that "eight hundred and seventy-one" books were issued from the public library during January. It should have been eighteen hundred and seventy-one.

—While at work in his wood yard this morning Mr. J. H. Gately met with quite a severe accident in the crushing of a foot. It was not particularly serious, however, but will inconvenience him for some time to come.

—Mr. and Mrs. Phyllis Norcross, entertained about forty friends at their home in the first ward, last evening. The company was partly in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. Leavitt, who are soon to start for California.

—This evening Janceville people will have an opportunity to see the drama, "The Last Leaf," presented by talented amateurs from the Good Templars. There will also be a farce entitled "We're All Teetotalers." Tickets twenty-five cents.

—Preparations are well under way for the Concordia masquerade which is to occur on the 21st inst. The party will be held in the rink, as that is the only room in the city which is large enough to accommodate the promised attendance.

—Mrs. Richard McGrath died at her home in the second ward yesterday afternoon. She was fifty-three years old and had been sick for some time past. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church on Sunday afternoon at half-past one o'clock.

—When the restaurant on South Main Street, formerly known as Skinkers, re-opens, it will present a very much improved appearance. Carpenters, painters and decorators have been busy at work since Monday and already the place is beginning to show promise of being very bright and pleasant.

—"The decision of the supreme court in the Carpenter case," said a Beloit man to-day, "has made people on river banks at Beloit just a little bit jubilant. To build out to the center of the stream was something that had been fondly dreaming of, but few dared hope for it."

—Messrs. James Sutherland and R. W. King are engaged in invoking the stock of F. S. Lawrence, preparatory to ascertaining the amount of assets which will stand against the indebtedness of the defunct concern. Their years of experience in that line amply qualify them for the work they have on hand.

—The members of the Buoni Amici club were happily entertained at the home of Mrs. A. L. Kavlejo. The hostess was assisted in dispensing the hospitalities of the occasion by Mrs. W. A. Hood. The usual programme was observed and a very enjoyable time was had.

—It is dullness of a peculiar sort of which the undertakers complain. There has not been a death within the city this far during the present week, and though the usual order of cold weather difficulties prevails there are no particularly serious cases of these disorders. We can stand the present condition without complaint.

—A full dress rehearsal for the Good Templars theatricals was held last evening at Lippin's hall. There has been considerable expense in arranging the costumes and the effect produced was striking. With the careful training that has been gone through, there is no doubt that the actors can entertain an audience very successfully.

—The house fee in Vincennes, Ind., is $800 for an all-night license; $750 for a 12 o'clock permit, and $250 for a day's permit. Under this system 52 licenses are granted, one-fourth of which are for all-night. The common council has three members who are saloon keepers. The city is democratic by several hundred majority.

PERSONAL.

—Business seems good for Landlord Heeling, at the Grand, if the register is any indication. Guests are so well satisfied with his accommodations that each recommends the house to his friends and well they may. Endeavored for, picked rooms and a superior table go far to make a hotel successful, and these the Grand certainly has.

—Dr. Patterson, of Beloit, who is county jail for thirty days, on a charge of vagrancy, is rapidly regaining his health. He was arrested to keep him from killing himself with cocaine, and now says that he will never use the drug again. It is probable that he will not return to Beloit, but will go directly to St. Louis, where his wife and children are.

—"Another failure," reported a west side business man to our inquiry for news. Out came the book and pencil in anticipation of a full column for a dull day. "Who is it?" we asked. "Street & Walker, come!" We heard no more, but fled out into the biting cold. We thought not of our friend; but, alas! for the frailty of ties of earth.

"Since you are bound to go, the quicker we get rid of you the better," said one of our customers the other day, as he laid down a twenty dollar bill. This is just the way we want everybody to feel about it, and the way to "get rid of us" is to take advantage of the present opportunity to buy new goods at first cost.

NEW YORK SAYING STONE.

—There were several elegant costumes at the mask ball last evening which deserve special mention. Miss Edith Buehler, as the Japanese lady; Miss Hattie Nelson, as the German peasant; Norman Wisch, as the fat clown; Messrs. Oba, Bix and Frank Smith, as the "colored twins"; and others, equally good, whose names we were unable to learn.

—Last evening about 9:30 o'clock a horse and sleigh was seen standing in front of a West Milwaukee street store. The horse was restless with the cold and apparently anxious to get home. A few minutes later and the same horse was seen, minus the body of the sleigh, flying up East Milwaukee street. The bells were attached and in his efforts to free himself from them the pace of the animal became terrific. After a while the owner was seen "floating in" homeward.

—A larger attendance than at any party they have yet given characterized the masquerade of the Young Men's Quindell club last night. Gretchen, Xenixie, Debbie, Sambo, Mr. Muldoon and a host of others joined hands and flitted about in the dance, presenting a fantastic and striking picture. The affair was a success in every way. Each detail was well arranged, everything passed off very smoothly, and not the least pleasant feature of the evening was the superseded by Truckwood.

—The Janceville Guards held a business meeting last evening, in which the business connected with their proposed trip to Washington was taken in hand. Propositions for transportation were reported from the Baltimore & Ohio and Pittsburgh & Ft. Wayne railroads. The minimum rate for round trip is $12.20. Two committees were appointed, one to organize a team from the entire body, and another to correspond with other roads with a view of securing the best possible rates. The company expect to leave here in time to be there at the opening on the 23d inst., and remain until after the big day, the 21st.

A very ingenious device is being shown to some of our business men, and is winning much praise. It is known as the National Cash Register. Along the front is a double row of keys marked with various sums from one cent to twenty dollars, and when a sale is made the key that corresponds is pressed, the money drawer opens, an indicator shows the amount of the sale and a wheel registers it within the cylinder. As each sale is made the sum is added to those that preceded it, the cash being thus balanced at all times. With this register mistakes in change, over charges or any other errors are prevented and the work of a bookkeeper is also saved.

—Hon. Alexander Graham was in the city to-day on business. "I'm glad to see," he said in the course of a conversation with water works, railroads and improvements in general, "that the spirit in Janceville is changing. When it was first suggested that we got some of these through lines to come through here there were half a dozen influential old men that always held back. 'O what's the use?' they would say. 'Janceville is the natural center of southern Wisconsin, and these roads must come here anyway. As to offering them inducements, that's all foolhardiness.' They found out at last that the sun wasn't obliged to come around here for permission to rise; but not until the other places had most of the persimmons. It looks now as though things would be a little different."

Don't forget that we are selling at cost to close our stock. We can save you money on anything you may want in our line, from a paper of pins to a pattern bonnet. Special bargains for to-morrow.

How to Gain Flesh and Strength.

Use after each meal Scott's Emulsion; it is as palatable as milk and easily digested. It will rapidly improve your throat affections and Bronchitis; it is unequalled. Dr. Thos. Prim, Ala., says: "I used Scott's Emulsion on a child eight months old; he gained four pounds in a month."

IT HAS WON SUCCESS.

If good work ever deserved its reward the work shown in the columns of Editor Baker's St. Paul Globe did, and the reward has come. The paper is now in a handsome new building, built especially for its occupancy, and this added to the fact that the Globe has the largest circulation in the northwest outside of Chicago, makes it seem as though St. Paul people appreciated the merit that is in their midst. With its columns full of news, wit and sense the Globe is truly an excellent paper.

—John Shortney, Jr., is with Richardson Bros. He takes the place of Walter A. Atira, who has gone to Rockford to superintend the business of the store or Richardson & Atira, in which he has purchased a half interest. Charles Fleming remains at Rockford.

—Mr. Leroy Holloway left yesterday for Hillsdale, Mich., to attend the golden wedding of his parents. This will be the occasion of a family reunion, in which will meet the brothers and sisters who have not met for years, and may never meet again on earth. He will not return for several days.

—Mr. G. H. Holton, of Chicago, general agent of Day's Bureau of Reports, was a guest at the Grand to-day. The company that Mr. Holton represents furnishes contractors with news of any improvement of over two thousand dollars that is to be made in the United States, thus enabling them to put in bids.

FREE DELIVERY IN JANCEVILLE.

A Dispatch that Confirms a Previous Report.

The following press dispatch concerning the establishment of the free delivery here is of interest:

There are three cities in Wisconsin, in addition to those already provided with the free delivery service, which meet the requirements of the new law providing for the extension of that service. They are Appleton, Fond du Lac and Janceville. To secure the free delivery system it is necessary that a city have 10,000 population or yield $150,000 gross revenue annually. Of the three cities named, but one—Janceville—has applied. The first assistant postmaster general has directed that an inspector be sent to Janceville to ascertain whether the city has the necessary qualifications for the service, such as named streets, numbered houses, paved or plank sidewalks, lighted streets, etc. He is also to confer with the postmaster and prominent citizens as to the general desire of the people for the service, and to advise in preparation for making it efficient. The number of carriers to be allowed will be one for each 500 of population, unless there be an extended or difficult territory to cover, when more may be allowed. On the receipt of the inspector's report of his investigation at Janceville, the department will establish the service, providing, of course, that the report be favorable.

It will be seen at a glance that if we would have this system, we have some work to do. The streets are to be named properly, and the residences and stores are to be numbered. At the next meeting of the city council the points involved should be taken up and put in shape for immediate execution. This is upon the supposition that we want the system, which we consider a settled proposition. The whole work could be done with less cost to the people if let by contract. This we give as an suggestion. Whatever is done should be done without delay.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Honors in Political Literature—A Presidential Election—In General.

Beloit, Feb. 4.—College politics, like some other things in this world, are very wonderfully and fearfully made. At the election of the new board of editors of the college paper, after all the desirable positions had been filled, representatives of the two fraternities, whose friendship is somewhat strained, each brought about the election of one of their rivals' members for the very subordinate posts of first and second assistant business managers. The duties being chiefly stamp looking. Strange to say, until enlightened, the successful candidates for these honors being Freshmen—thought they were highly complimented.

A Junior, a sophomore, and a senior prep, will represent Beloit college at the college X. M. C. state convention to be held at Beaver Dam next week.

A fit motto to be placed over the portal of Prof. Smith's mathematics room is "Leave hope behind when enter here."

THE WATER WORKS.

The Janceville delegation returned home well pleased—A First Class Report.

To an American, the city of Vincennes, Indiana, is a very old, old town, the patriotic people taking great delight in impressing upon the stranger the fact that the city was settled the same year that Philadelphia was. They also delight in informing him that it was here that Captain Clark, by strategy, compelled the surrender of the French under a general commanding Fort Mifflin, during one of the early French wars. Captain Clark, with two hundred men, marched around a knoll seven times in plain view of the French general, changing the marching column each time, and then sending fifty men forward to the fort demanding the surrender. Also that the water works are on historic ground, being the identical place where the old Indian chief Tecumseh surrendered to General Harrison. The city has a population, according to Crand's atlas, of 7,778, but the enthusiastic citizens claim 12,000. The city has real and personal property valuation of $4,400,000, and the rate of taxation is one per cent for city purposes. The streets and sidewalks are very narrow, and mostly unpaved and unplanked. The city has not kept pace with its rival of 1702. It has a frontage on the east bank of the Wabash river of 21 blocks, extending back 13 blocks. The buildings are mostly very old, and are of the half-ruined, half-restored style of architecture. Now and then a stranger sees indications of a new life in that new handsome and modern residences are being built. Knox county has a very handsome court house, and the city is now building a $50,000 city hall, and has a number of fine school buildings. The city is free of debt, and has very good railway facilities, and a navigable river.

THE WATER WORKS.

The Janceville delegation was met at the depot by the superintendent of the works, and were kindly shown the plant and its workings, and then were introduced to some of the leading citizens of the city.

The water works, just completed, were built and are owned by S. R. Bullock & Co. The plant consists of 14 1/2 miles of pipe, a stand pipe 22 feet in diameter and 200 feet high, being the largest water column in America; two compound Deane engines and pumps with a capacity of 4,000,000 gallons. The water is taken from the Wabash river filtered through a system of filter beds and wells. The city pays the company $5,000 for 150 feet hydrants, and $40 for each additional hydrant up to 300. The stand pipe is a colossal structure, towering away above the city, and is seen from a distance of many miles. The plant is, to all appearance, a complete one, and affords ample fire protection as the city is now constituted.

The delegation were shown some practical workings of the plant yesterday afternoon, when a stream was thrown with the stand pipe pressure to a height of 135 feet, and about the same distance with direct pressure, both with 300 feet of hose.

The delegation, consisting of City Attorney C. E. Pierce, Ald. Jas. A. Fathers, Messrs. David Jeffris, N. Fredericks and John O. Spencer, as the guest of Mr. W. H. Fritschman, of S. R. Bullock & Co., arrived here this afternoon, 10 o'clock to publish statistical information gained by the visit. The delegates, however, are unanimous in the opinion that Messrs. Bullock & Co. have built in that city a system of water works that in every way comply with the contract made with the city and more, and that the people of Vincennes are unwoman and laud in their praise of the thorough manner in which the works have been constructed, and that they now have ample fire protection. City Attorney Pierce gained many valuable points which will be of great service to him in preparing a contract, should our proposed works be constructed by a private company. On to-morrow evening we shall publish some statistics relating to the city, its water works, fire department etc., in very similar to Janceville.

One of the greatest household treasures is Parbark's Soap. On sale at grocery stores.
